Clues Found On Ranch Near Hearne

An Arizona man was named Friday by Austin police on an auto theft charge and a murder charge is pending in the death of Jack Cooney III, whose decapitated body was found in the Brazos River near Gause last December.

The auto theft charge was filed against William Craig Riley, 24, with no permanent address, who is also wanted for a murder in Del Rio and armed robbery in Indio, Calif.

He is still at large.

Cooney, a car salesman, was last seen alive on Nov. 30, when he left the car lot in the company of a man thought to be a prospective customer.

Cooney's mutilated body, from which the arms, legs and head had been severed, was discovered on a sandbar in the Brazos three days later, but the van he had been driving had vanished.

Texas law enforcement officers investigating the case believe that Cooney's body may have been dissected or parts disposed of on a small ranch on Rabbit Lane near Hearne.

Officers searched the ranch for two days and found information which led them to believe the body was dismembered there.

The van driven by Cooney, repainted and bearing Arizona license plates, had been impounded in Indio since late February, after police there identified it as the getaway vehicle used in the robbery of a downtown bus station.

Indio police said they ran a standard stolen vehicle check on the minibus, but it came back registered to Riley. They said the suspect apparently had once owned a similar vehicle and had tampered with the identification number on Cooney's van.

lear fuels will result in lower rates to customers than will be possible if generating plants continue to burn high cost natural gas and oil. The use of lignite and nuclear fuels necessitates higher base rates initially to support the higher plant costs but much lower fuel costs in the future will more than offset that.

Skelton added, "Our major concern right now is whether or not we will be able to attract the hundreds of millions of investment dollars which will be necessary to continue our generating plant construction program -- a program which is imperative if the company is to convert from natural gas and at the same time meet the growing electric requirements of its customers."

The company's rate request was intended to meet financial requirements through mid-1979. According to company officials it will be necessary to file for another rate increase much earlier.

Farmers Market Plan Proposed

Producers in Milam County who are interested in organizing a Farmers Market are being asked to contact the Cameron Area Chamber of Commerce to express their interest.

Tentative plans call for farmers to sell produce, such as fresh fruits and vegetables in a market that would be set up at the Youth Exposition Building in Cameron.

If enough interest is shown in the plan, a meeting of interested persons will be called by the Chamber.

TWICE AS GOOD

It's been almost 10 years since your Herald ran a series on Haight-Ashbury, "the flower children" and the California sub-culture which has all but disappeared.

Content of that three or four-part series raised eyebrows all over Central Texas. A daily newsman working in Austin at the time said he thought it was "live stuff" and more than the wire services were moving in this part of the country.

After walking the length of Haight Street, I felt a sense of astonishment at the pointless escapism going on in Golden Gate Park and H-A area. It was apparently rebellion, drug culture and teeny-boppers communing in gross, colorful Baghdad West proportions.

That's the way it went down, the way it was and to some disastrous extent the way it is in sections of dozens of cities in this country -- ghettos and drugs, either or both.

What brought this experience and commentary back to print was a segment of Kenneth B. Clark's "Duplicity and Racism", which appeared as the 15th of 16 articles on The Herald's editorial page of April 25.

QUOTE: In recent years we have seen an increasing number of young Americans seeking to resolve their moral conflicts by rebelling against the success and affluence of their families, by escaping into cults and communes and wandering off into morally uncharted jungles for personal self-destruction.

QUOTE: It is ironic and indicative of the depth of racist indoctrination of American children that even at the height of the collective rebellion of American youth in the late 1960s and the early 1970s, they did not make the rejection of American racist practices a clear and sustained objective of their protests. UNQUOTE

That is a remarkable observation, but a true one. I saw Haight for only part of an afternoon, but it was all but all-white, suggesting it cost something to "do your thing" in Haight-Ashbury until the money ran out and you got a ride home.

Those kids, and millions like them in lesser ways, spent a good part of a decade rebelling against everything, particularly Vietnam, the first "immoral" war. But the immorality of slavery, of separate, but not-equal school systems and segregated churches never really meant much to them.

The greatest President of this country, by European evaluation, which is far more objective than yet possible in this country, was Abraham Lincoln, not because he was a Republican, or a country lawyer or a self-made citizen of historic eloquence, but because he held a booming nation together in a civil war, because he freed the slaves ("to save the Union, I'll free all of the slaves, some of the slaves, none of the slaves," Lincoln said in paraphrase) and because he was killed before he could heal the wounds of war he was capable of healing.

Yet, the younger generation of today looks to Harry Truman as a symbol of public heroics. And Harry was hardly a racist, but the guy who pulled the trigger twice to start the nuclear era cold wars, police actions in Korea and in early part Vietnam, so divisive until its end.

Lincoln a hundred years later probably seems an anachronism unrelated to a continuing dichotomy in U.S. social development. There is a color line drawn even in youthful rebellion.

If I was astonished at Haight-Ashbury and in retrospect astonished at what Clark says about this generation, now nearing 30, I am astonished at my own experiences within the framework of church and state.

The "Duplicity and Racism" of which Clark writes are easily documented in the grim conclusion I draw about non-metro Texas: That Blacks and Yankees have had to be twice as good.

Tour Points City's Growth, Needs

New home construction, trash in open ditches, improved drainage and sewers, and activity at a new park were just a few of the sights viewed by a busload of citizens who took a tour of Cameron Monday afternoon.

On the bus were members of the city council, members of the board of directors and employees of the Community Development Agency and the press.

CDA director A. W. McCullin led the tour, starting at the Youth Exposition building where construction is being completed on restrooms and other facilities.

As the tour continued, he explained that over a two-year period some 90 substandard or dilapidated houses have been removed and lots cleaned off. Many of these lots now contain new brick homes financed by FHA.

At Ledbetter Park, the new, deepened lake was viewed with McCullin citing the efforts of the Noon Lions Club and the city in contributing funds for the park, where all trees were trimmed, the lake deepened, and a

The Texas Public Utility Commission Monday awarded Texas Power & Light Co. rate increases totaling $58.2 million, an 11.5 percent system-wide increase that is far below the company's request.

TP&L, which had sought $134.8 million, said the decision was "extremely disappointing."

Although the commission order extends only to unincorporated areas in TP&L's 51-county service area, many cities have been awaiting the ruling before acting on individual rate requests from TP&L.

Cameron city council last Tuesday postponed decision on a 34 percent

Entries Open For Folk Fete Parade

Entries for the Folk Fete parade, to be held Saturday, June 11, are being encouraged early this year, according to Mrs. Pearl Krenek, parade chairman.

Judging of parade units will start at 9 a.m. and prizes will be awarded in a number of categories.

As a public service, The Herald is printing an entry form in this issue for persons who wish to enter the parade. It should be filled out as indicated and returned to Mrs. Krenek whose address is included on the form.

Stabbing Reported

A Cameron woman was charged with aggravated assault and released on $1,000 bond following a stabbing incident early Sunday morning.

Patricia Hayes was charged with the stabbing of Willie Ray Spells, also of Cameron, at a residence on Emancipation St.

settling basin for silt constructed. Alabama Town was the next stop, where a sewer system is being installed with CDA funds. This is a three-year project, with more of the lines to be installed. McCullin said the system has replaced 33 outdoor toilets and 23 septic tanks in the area.

Various drainage projects were shown, including a deep ditch from the Santa Fe Ry. to 12th. Pipes and culverts were cleaned out, allowing passage of water, but trash is being deposited in some of the ditch. Seen at one place was a car seat, door frame, bucket, old tire, and an ironing board.

Some drainage problems still await solution, McCullin explained, as ditches would have to be opened on private property and consent is hard to get.

At the new O.J. Thomas Park on Emancipation, the tennis courts and playground equipment were getting plenty of action. The park also has basketball courts and two baseball diamonds.

The Community Action Center for rate increase for the city asked by TP&L, pending the commission's ruling. Local TP&L manager Larry Morrow was out of town Tuesday and was unavailable for comment.

The utility company will have 20 days to submit rate schedules to the commission meeting the revenue requirements of the new ruling.

The state commission then has 30 days to analyze the rate schedules and make sure they conform to the order.

TP&L President J. F. Skelton said it well be necessary to study the decision before determining further courses of action. He said the amount approved was based on a "test year" which began with October 1975, but because of rapidly rising costs in the electric utility business the amount is "grossly inadequate" for the years 1977 and 1978 and will not permit the company to earn an adequate return on its invested capital.

Said Skelton, "Texas Power & Light has been the leader in Texas in converting from the use of scarce natural gas and oil to lignite coal as fuel for its generating plants. The company is years ahead of other Texas companies and is already generating 40 percent of its electricity with lignite.

"There is no question but that TP&L's conversion to coal and nuc-senior citizens was toured, with director Vivian McIntyre noting that some 50 to 55 hot meals are served to the elderly each day. The center has a room for crafts and the area residents gather there for games and visiting.

Improvements are planned for West 8th and West 12th streets, along with others in West Cameron, McCullin said. The CDA will pay the city's part in the costs of paving.

New home construction in the Anderle Addition and the Culpepper Addition was viewed, with some homes completed and others under construction.

The last stop was at City Park, where improvements include new tennis courts which were financed through the Lions Clubs, Rotary, KC, Alcoa Foundations, individuals and the city. It was noted that the courts are in constant use.

The group then adjourned to the Pizza Hut, where supper was provided courtesy of Citizens National Bank.

A Milam Solution Goes National ...

Hastening to the role pioneered in Milam County by Aluminum Company of America and Texas Power & Light Co., the Federal Energy Administration is planning to require 31 electric utility power plants in 10 states to convert to coal.

For 25 years the Alcoa Rockdale Works and TP&L's Industrial Generating have mined and burned lignite in the energy process enabling the Milam County smelter to become the world's largest aluminum smelting operation.

Another generating system, valued at about $300 millions, will be constructed during the next three years at the Rockdale works site in a joint venture by Alcoa and TP&L, while yet another will be built to furnish power for a Palestine Alcoa smelter in Robertson County.

Public hearings will be held in Dallas, Kansas City, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Chicago in May according to FEA chief John O'Leary.

The burning of coal, bituminous, anthracite or lignite, depending on availability and cost, will be re-instituted in power plants using oil or natural gas across the nation.

Similar orders are already issued to 74 existing power plants and to 143 new generating stations, all with coal-burning capacity, to eliminate use of oil or gas.

The Point Comfort Alcoa smelter has all but shut down during the energy cost crunch, as many as five-sevenths of Alcoa employees off for the past three years. The Rockdale plant has been rehiring some 200 since the 1975 slowdown.

The FEA authority to order coal conversions began with a program during the Ford Administration. The June 30 deadline has been extended six months while the Carter energy proposals enabling more coal conversions, is studied by Congress.

All this says Milam County is again a leader in modern industry, anticipating the economics and energy needs of a post World War II-era which will bring off growth in the Milam area well into the year 2000.

Good Climate For News, Comment...

Two bits of good news came out of Austin this week concerning newspapers and magazines or the media in toto.

One is an 82-page report which found the Texas Open Records Act of 1973 is working, according to the reporting Texas Advisory Commission of Intergovernmental Relations.

The other is the signing into law a sales tax exemption for Texas newspapers and Texas-printed magazines by Governor Briscoe.

The Open Records Act has been effective since the Texas Legislature passed it in 1973, the Advisory Commission noted, without "undue infringement on the right to personal privacy."

The Commission has advised that all record-keeping entities ensure only necessary information is compiled that subjects be informed of reasons for collecting information and that files be cleared of obsolete information.

Commission also advised better security for confidential files and information in computer data banks, allowing individuals to scrutinize public files for misinformation.

Public bodies in the Milam area have been careful in the application of the Open Meetings Law, which allows executive session in discussion of personnel and purchase of real estate for public employment or construction.

The exemption for newsstand sales or subscription goes into effect October 1, allowing print media to discontinue accounting for honor rack sales tax, for which control is impossible, and carrier boy sales which fluctuate in countless combinations among dailies with daily and Sunday combination deliveries. Cost of supervising accountability among newspapers was more than the effort was worth, according to Comptroller Bob Bullock.

Both reports suggest the media and state government are finding the balance which sustains a healthy news environment and First Amendment climate for "fair comment and criticism."

Legislature Now Churning Out Bills

Both houses of the legislature, with May 30 adjournment deadline closing in, are churning out major bills at a modest pace.

The House, after five days of debate, agreed on a $695 million school finance plan, which included no funds for a teacher pay raise.

Immediately afterward, representatives turned to the issue of property tax reform and passed legislation creating a single county-wide appraisal office for all local units of government.

Meanwhile, the Senate in its longest floor controversy of the year, passed 27-4 a medical malpractice bill vastly different from that earlier cleared by the House. The measure must go to conference committee, and whether it can be compromised to suit both houses is in doubt.

The Senate also passed legislation bringing Texas obsolescence compensation benefits in line with federal law and raising maximum payments from $63 to $84 a week with a built in $7 (per 10 average weekly wage) annual increase. The bill, sponsors emphasized, is necessary to prevent a $600 million payroll tax increase for Texas employers and to retain for the Texas Employment Commission $60 million in federal administrative aid.

Other major bills advanced by the Senate included a new voter registration system and authority for so-called evidentiary search warrants.

The House this week was scheduled to move right into debate on its $15.7 billion biennial appropriations bill.

A'GIN IT

Texas statewide officials, many of whom campaigned actively for Jimmy Carter, strongly disagree with the president's new energy policies.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe threatens a lawsuit against Carter's proposal to extend federal controls over gas produced and sold within the state. The governor said he expects to speak out strongly against most provisions of the Carter program.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Atty. Gen. John Hill, Speaker Bill Clayton and other prominent Democrats also have blasted intrastate natural gas controls by the federal government.

And Republican Sen. John Tower, delighted at a new issue, said Carter bamboozled energy-producing states during the 1976 campaign with promises to deregulate gas.

Ranch Eyed

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong renewed a plea that Texas buy a 212,000 acre ranch near Big Bend Park for use as a recreation area.

A House bill would provide $8 million to purchase the property from Robert O. Anderson at $37 an acre. Armstrong translated that as 66 cents for each Texan.

The Senate approved the purchase two years ago, but the final appropriations bill passed by the legislature did not include the funds.

The legislation proposes turning over the land to the General Land Office. Parts of the property could be leased for grazing and other parts for public hunting until the Parks and Wildlife Department is prepared to develop it as a park, Armstrong said.

Courts Speak

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the death penalty sentence assessed the alleged triggerman in a Dallas killing for which another man, Ernest Benjamin Smith, was due to be executed this week. Conviction of Howie Ray Robinson was thrown out due to testimony in the trial about a lie detector test.

The court also overturned the conviction for negligent homicide of a man who ran into an auto at 120 miles an hour killing a woman.

And it rejected the 99-year sentence of a Houston man for aggravated robbery. The man attempted to defend himself after refusing his court-appointed attorney.

The State Supreme Court upheld lower court findings that a suit designed to equalize local school taxes could not be prosecuted without legislative approval.

AG Opinions

The Air Control Board has authority under its standards to grant variances for existing facilities, Atty. Gen. John Hill found.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: Harris County must pay jurors from its jury fund, not from a separate fund entrusted to the district clerk.

Dental school professors are exempted from annual registration as long as they work exclusively for the school, as are employees of the U.S. Public Health Service.

An audit report on federal grants is subject to public disclosure. Mere refusal to deliver property to a secured party is not an offense under the penal code.

There is no visible incompatibility in a part-time college instructor's serving as an adult probation officer, although questions could arise that would make the double job improper.

Short Snorts

The House approved a bill providing for carrying out the death penalty by drug injection rather than electrocution.

The Railroad Commission approved the first surface mining permit in Texas to Exxon U.S.A. for recovery of uranium ore in Live Oak County.

Texas National Guard is conducting an intensive recruiting drive to sign up 2,000 new members to meet a "critical" shortage.

Comptroller Bob Bullock mailed checks totalling $16.2 million to Texas cities and towns, representing the April rebate of their

White House Answers SALT Talks Questions

This is a background report on the U.S. proposals on the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) and a description of the U.S. position presented to the Soviet Union by Secretary of State Cyrus Vance.

In substance, the Soviets rejected the U.S. proposals.

QUESTION: What were the main features of the U.S. proposal?

ANSWER: The U.S. made two proposals to the Soviets. The features of the first proposal are:

- A reduction in the aggregate number of strategic systems from 2400 to somewhere between 1800-2000.

- A reduction in the Vladivostok level for MIRVed missiles from 1320 to somewhere between 1100-1200.

- A freeze on deployment of new ICBMs; a ban on modification of existing ICBMs; a limit on the number of annual flight tests allowed for ICBMs. This was meant to result in a common limit of 550 land-based MIRVed missiles.

- A reduction in the number of large ballistic missiles (particularly the SS-9 and SS-18), which only the Soviets possess, from the current level of 308 to a new level of 150.

- Assurance that the new Soviet Backfire bomber would not be used as a strategic weapon.

- And finally a ban on cruise missiles of range sufficient to provide independent strategic capability.

The second proposal was to accept the overall numerical limit and the MIRV sub-limits of the Vladivostok accord and to defer the Backfire and cruise missile issues for later negotiations.

We told the Soviet Union that we would accept certain forms of assurances that the Backfire would not be used as a strategic weapon. We are prepared to negotiate the exact form of these limitations in the framework of a proposal to ban all strategic cruise missiles.

The U.S. comprehensive approach is intended to produce real constraints on the strategic arms programs of both countries, and to make a first step towards reduced dependence on nuclear systems. We want to tailor reductions and other constraints to reduce the vulnerability of land-based ICBMs, as this is a major

Dear editor:

One of the troubles with high-powered newspaper and television reporters is they're too superficial, they don't go deep enough into the important news stories of the day.

For example, the Supreme Court, but a vote of 5 to 4 has ruled it's not unconstitutional to paddle a school kid.

The wire services and the networks reported this, along with reports on why some members voted for, some against.

But they left out what I wanted to know: How many members of the Supreme Court were paddled when they were in school? If a member was paddled, did it, now years later, reflect itself in how he voted on this Constitutional crisis? Did the 5 who voted for paddling get paddled when they were in school, and the 4 who voted against escape? Or was it the other way around? That is, from which end did they approach it? While of course getting to the seat of the problem.

Reporters ought to get on the ball and give us the news we're really interested in, like does getting a paddling in school make a liberal or a conservative Supreme Court judge?

Some people don't think times have changed, but they have. Years ago, when a kid got paddled for misbehaving in school, it went to the Supreme Court, all right, but that court wasn't located in Washington, it was much closer. It was at home, where the kid automatically got another paddling for getting a paddling in school. You might call this double jeopardy, but to the kid it was a signal of clear and present danger that if he didn't straighten up he was going to have trouble sitting down.

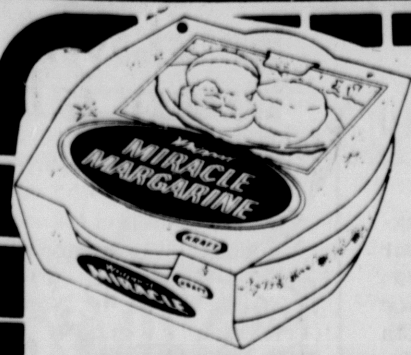

I don't know whether this worked or not, but it sure saved legal expense.

Also, I don't know whether kids learned more or less years ago than kids do nowadays, but whatever was, more or less, it sure was quieter. Oh, occasionally an eraser was thrown through a window, but never a teacher.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Funeral was at Forest Park chapel on Lawndale in Houston at 10:30 a.m. Monday, with burial in the Hollywood Cemetery in Houston.

Surviving are three sons, Ray Thompson of Cameron, Blondie Thompson of Center Point and Coulter Thompson of Stafford; and six daughters, Mrs. Johnnie Mae Byrd of Cameron, Mrs. John Mancusco, Mrs. Kenneth Herron, Mrs. Joe Baumbach all of Houston, Mrs. Lois Bivona of Galveston and Mrs. Madalin Pillot of New Braunfels; and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Coy C. Arledge of Cameron.

Massey

Florine Fisher Massey, 72, of Pasadena, died Thursday in Pasadena. She was born and reared in Hanover and had lived in the Pasadena area for 47 years.

Funeral service was held Saturday at the First Baptist Church in Pasadena with Dr. L. D. Morgan and the Rev. Darrell Robinson officiating. Burial was in Forest Park Lawndale.

Surviving are daughters and sons-in-law, Frances and Bert Abendroth, Patsy and John Horton, all of Pasadena; Flo and Bob Snyder, Houston; brothers, Curtis H. Fisher, Pasadena; Joe L. Fisher, Houston; and six grandchildren.

CHURCH SERVICES

Ministerial student Mark Labaj of Austin will be guest speaker at the 9 a.m. worship service of the Buckholts Brethren Church Sunday.

Mark, a student at the University of Texas at Austin, is a member of the Austin Brethren Church. He will enter Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary in September.

Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Labaj of 2119 Fordham Lane, Austin.

May Is Older Texans Month

A proclamation designating May as Older Texans Month has been signed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

He urged Texas communities to honor older residents "for their valuable contributions to our state and society" and to provide opportunities for older Texans to participate in decisions which affect their well-being and independence.

Certificates of commendation have been distributed throughout the state by the Governor's office for presentation to older Texans who have made outstanding contributions to their communities.

The award ceremonies are being coordinated through County Agents of the Texas A&M Extension Service

4-H NOTES

By Chris Holcombe

NEEDLE and

Amazing the miracles that can be wrought with needle and thread!

Provided, of course, the needle and thread are in the right hands.

Tools and materials are never more important than the skills of the craftsman who uses them.

In the realm of the spiritual, God has provided us with many resources. They inspire constructive living, dedicated service, devotion to high ideals.

But what we accomplish in our spiritual quest depends most of all on the skills we acquire through parental example and religious training. The churches of our community are helping us train a new generation to design a better tomorrow — using God's pattern.

Progress Made On

Arts & Crafts Fair

A report of the preparations for the Annual Arts and Crafts Fair was made recently at a meeting of the Ladies Committee of the Cameron Area Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Alma Bush made a report of new features planned for the October 1 event. Some of them include children's activities, a Minutour and special displays.

Arts & Crafts

Fair To Be Held At Kerrville

The Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair, May 28, 29 and 30 in Kerrville, is nationally known for quality arts and crafts but recently, the foods served during the Fair have become an outstanding attraction.

Set in the atmosphere of an old fashioned country fair, much of the food recalls the aromas and tastes of an earlier Texas.

German sausage on a stick and beef jerky are featured. Then, in the next booth, ice cream freezers turn out old recipe treats. Fair visitors who feast on catfish, hush puppies and fried chicken may have Hill Country peach with cream for dessert. Mexican foods include tacos, fajitas, chiki conqueso and chalapas. Traditional fair treats of hamburgers, hot dogs and popcorn are served with plenty of ice cold drinks. Sweets are everywhere, too, with homemade cakes and baked-on-the-grounds donuts.

Adequate shade areas are provided for visitors to sit and eat, either in the covered dining area or on hay bales set under ancient oak trees.

The spacious grounds of Schreiner College provide ample room for relaxation and plenty of free parking is available.

A free color brochure is available by writing Texas Arts and Crafts Foundation, P.O. Box 1527, Kerrville, Texas, 78028.

CLUBS

Pleasure & Profit

The Pleasure and Profit Club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Anita Bartley.

After a short business meeting conducted by club president, Jean Tumlinson, Mr. Jerry Bartley, Yoe High Band director gave a most interesting and informative report on the Yoe High School Band. He told how they operate here at home as well as in their competition in other cities and towns. He also told of their workshops and some of their goals.

The Yoe High School Band is such a vital part of our community and one of which we are truly all very proud.

The hostesses served a variety of dips and chips with iced tea to eleven members.

Milano Roping Club

The Milano Roping Club voted at a recent meeting to pay all three places in the playday events on May 14.

The playday will begin at 7 p.m. at the Roping Club arena.

Squires

A new club sponsored by the Knights of Columbus of St. Monica's parish has been organized. It is a new service club for youth in Cameron. The name of the club is the Squires.

Twenty boys age 12 to 17 was inducted into the Squires recently.

The club will participate in church and community activities.

MARRIED- Miss Vicki Brown and Thomas Michael Worthington were married recently in Cleburne. Mr. Worthington is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McLane of Cameron. They are residing in Cleburne where she is employed with Range-Air in Cleburne and he is working in Glen Rose for Brown-Root.

FASHION

Accessories

Accessorizing today's apparel is definitely an art, and fashionable jewelry for spring/summer '77 is the most exciting ever, Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist, reports.

A new direction is fabric jewelry, sometimes scented. Silk or cotton cords and strings - plain, braided, or twisted and often with silk flowers, knots, or beads added - will be worn for daytime or evening.

Fabric jewelry will be seen at the neck, ankle, or wrist - in soft and romantic and bright and bold colors. Often several colors will be twisted or knotted together, the specialist predicted.

Miss Rhoades is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Traditional gold will be more popular than ever, especially for daytime wear. Look for gold and white, gold and ivory, and gold with black. Other popular metals include pewter, silver, and copper.

Hair ornaments will return with a fresh new look. Try flowers, feathers, headbands (plain or with flowers), combs of every kind, and lots of clips - one is great, but several in a row are better yet.

"Necklaces may be long or wide at the neck with neckbands and chokers particularly great. One new look is a lariat - a narrow rope-like necklace with one or more loops tied and the ends hanging free."

"Fun jewelry" includes ceramic ornaments on cords and metal shapes on leather straps for an interesting change, the specialist said. Bangles lead fashion news for the wrist, including wooden bracelets, ivory, silver, frosted colors, and bright bold bands.

Today's accessory items are an inexpensive way to update a wardrobe - and, at the same time, express the daring, adventurous spirit of their fashion-minded wearer, Miss Rhoades said.

APPLIANCES

More frequent use of portable appliances in place of major appliances will save consumers money - and re-duce energy use, predicts available, but any six-inch Lynn Bourland, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Crepes-Fun To Serve Meals

By Chris Holcombe
Milam Co. Extension Agent

Serve Crepes for easy, but elegant, dining - Delicate crepes are "in style" for easy - to - make, fun - to - serve meals.

These tender, thin pancakes with delicious filling or savory sauces add a fancy - but easy - touch to any meal.

Creme batter is a smooth mixture of flour, eggs, milk, salt and melted fat or cooking oil - and the dessert variety also contains a minute amount of sugar. Crepe variations using either corn-meals, whole wheat or cocoa can complement special fillings.

For cooking, electric cr-consumers money - and re-duce energy use, predicts available, but any six-inch Lynn Bourland, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

heated skillet with one hand and pour about two tablespoons in a skillet, hold the heated skillet with one hand and pour about two tablespoons of crepe batter into the pan. Rotate the pan quickly so batter covers the bottom of the pan in a thin, even layer. Return skillet to heat and cook 45-60 seconds. Crepes can be folded many different ways - most cook-books show directions for this step.

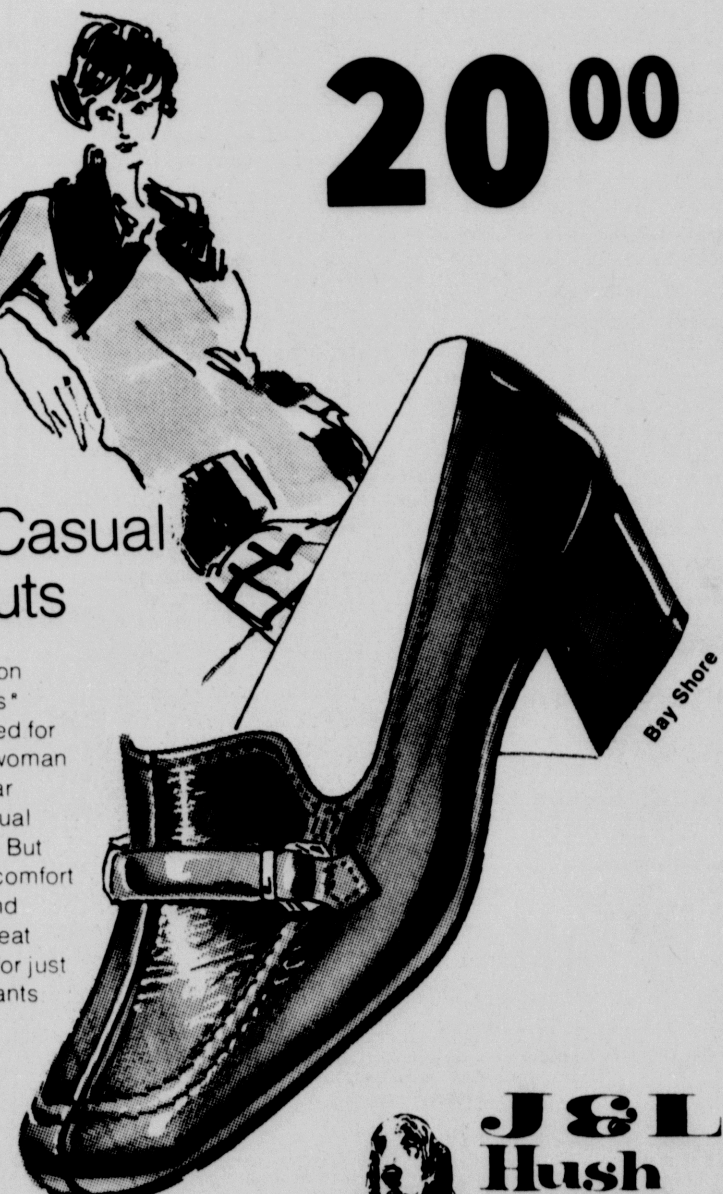

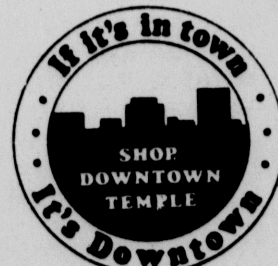

A bonus to the ease of fixing crepes is that they do not have to be made the day they are to be served. Make them a day, week or months in advance. Separate each crepe with waxed paper, wrap in freezer, vapor - moisture proof paper and freeze.

Homemaker Hints

FIBER IN DIET

Fiber is important in the diet to help avoid constipation - and evidence shows it may help prevent other intestinal disorders. Fiber sources are whole - grain breads and crackers, cereals such as bran flakes, all bran, shredded wheat, whole wheat flakes, old fashioned oatmeal, hot cereals and mixed whole grain "natural" cereals. Other sources are raw vegetables - or those cooked to "tender-crisp," fresh and dried fruits, dried beans, peas and lentils.

CHILD LEARNS

Young children learn by imitating their parents. They feel that it is "okay" to do something as long as they see parents doing the same thing, says Mrs. Ilene Miller, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

RED & YELLOW

Bright colors, particularly red and egg-yolk yellow, teamed with white will be one of summer's most popular combinations.

All American Girl Contest On June 7-8

On June 7-8, a host of talented young ladies will compete for the coveted title of Texas' first All American Girl. The pageant is scheduled to be held in Waco at the Holiday Inn. The All American Girl Pageant is unique in that it is one of the few pageants in existence that covers such a wide range of age groups.

Categories are the All American Tot - ages 3-6; All American Little Miss - ages 7-9; All American Miss - ages 10-12; All American Teen - ages 13-17; and the All American Girl - ages 18-26.

Girls in the age groups of 3-12 will compete with street-length party dress, sportswear, and close-up appraisal.

All girls except the 3-6 year olds will be judged on a talent presentation.

Winners from each category will receive trophy, crown, banner, and the opportunity to compete for nearly $5,000 of scholarships to be awarded at the national competition.

Would-be contestants may inquire for further information and applications by writing All American Girl Pageants, 1915 Montgomery Highway, Donham, Alabama, 36301. PTA's, band boosters, dance schools, civic clubs, and other organizations interested in sponsoring a local pageant as a fund raising project may also inquire.

County Agent's Notes

Continue Spraying Trees For Good Fruit Crop

By Bill McCutchen

Don't forget to continue spraying those peach and plum trees. Almost everyone has a good crop of peaches and plums this year and an application or two just won't do it.

To wind up with quality fruit you need to start spraying in the pink bud stage and continue spraying on until about a week before harvest.

Two materials are required in a spray mixture, an insecticide and fungicide. The insecticide controls insects such as stink bugs and plum curculio's and the fungicide controls brown rot and scab.

For homeowners I would suggest a mixture of malathion and captan. These materials can be mixed together and sprayed together. Continue your spray applications at 10 to 14 day intervals until just before harvest time.

If you haven't sprayed your pecans with a pre-pollination spray you might still want to do so. The primary benefits from a pre-pollination application will be from zinc application and scab control.

Include an insecticide such as malathion, or guthion plus a fungicide such as duteer or benlate; and zinc sulphate in your spray mix. Check labels or call the Extension office for mixture recommendations.

The pecan nut casebearer spray dates are usually about May 15th to May 20th in Milam County, but they can be a week or so earlier or later. I will keep you posted on pecan nut casebearer spray dates as we are able to pinpoint it more closely.

BEEF REFERENDUM

Douglas Buck, Milam County ASCS executive director, has announced that registration for voting in the Beef Referendum will be in the county ASCS office during office hours from June 6 through June 17. Voting will be conducted in the same location from July 4 to July 15 during office hours.

The Milam County ASCS office will be closed on July 4, but will otherwise be open on weekdays from 8 until 4:30 p.m. including the noon

In a move designed to increase on-farm storage and drying facilities, Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland has relaxed requirements and expanded government assistance under the farm facility loan program.

According to Milam County ASCS, several changes in the program should allow more Milam County farmers to participate in the program and to build larger storage facilities than before.

Under the new program, a farmer can borrow up to $50,000 on two years' crops with 15 percent down and 7 per cent interest. The maximum loan amount under the old program was $25,000 on one year's crop with 30 percent down and 7 1/2 percent interest.

In addition, the cost of cement and electrical wiring, formerly excluded, is now eligible under the program.

Any owner, landlord, tenant or sharecropper may be eligible if they meet the county ASCS committee's conditions. They must grow one or more of the following crops: corn, sorghum, wheat or oats.

For more information about the government farm facility loans, contact the Milam County ASCS office or a member of the county ASCS committee.

Beef Cattle Field Day Set May 5

A Beef Cattle Field Day at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research Center at McGregor on May 5 will highlight ongoing beef and forage research programs.

Beginning at 10 a.m., the field day will feature a tour of research activities followed by a "Dutch" barbecue lunch and a special program relating to the new beef development plan and the history and future of beef cattle research.

Cattle Profits Year Away

Although cattlemen are starting to see better prices again, it may still be a year or two before they start making profits.

That's the contention of Dr. Ed Uvacek, a livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Uvacek, who has been in the business of analyzing cattle cycles for some time, is basing his projection on the assumption that a new cycle is just now beginning and that the second of the sixth year of the cycle is generally the most favorable period from the price standpoint. Historically, cattle cycles have been highly consistent in both duration and magnitude, generally lasting about seven-to-eight years during this build-up phase.

"Cattle numbers peaked in 1975," points out Uvacek, "and since then, there has been a liquidation which now looks like it is coming to an end. With a new cycle about to start, the years of 1978 to 1982 should provide fairly good price years for cattlemen, if history repeats itself. Of course, this doesn't take into consideration such factors as droughts, depressions or similar catastrophic situations."

What would a day in your life be like—without the private enterprise system?

7 a.m.

Time to start the day with a cup of coffee. There's only one brand. Quality's not too good, but you probably won't know that, since you've never had an opportunity to select from different brands competing for your taste preferences.

8 a.m.

Off to work. Many of the kinds of jobs you work at today won't exist, for there would be no incentive to risk money creating jobs if there were no opportunity to make a profit.

9 a.m.

Perhaps there's a meeting at work this morning to discuss productivity. No reward particularly for doing a better job, but remember - there may not be lots of places where you can look for work, so you work harder, longer, without any real hope for significant improvement.

10 a.m.

You have a doctor's appointment. While you may not need to bring any money - you probably won't have much choice in who treats you - or even in the quality of treatment you require.

12 a.m.

Lunch time. There's a restaurant not far away. Food's not particularly good and the menu has been the same for six months - but since there are very few choices, it really doesn't make a lot of difference.

3 p.m.

Time to pick up the kids. You're the only one on the block with a car. Oh, the Smith's ordered one eighteen months ago and they'll be able to help out when it comes in, but meanwhile -----.

7 p.m.

TV time. No advertising to interrupt your favorite program. In fact, there won't be too many favorite programs. Tonight there is a report on the benefits of the classless society.

11 p.m.

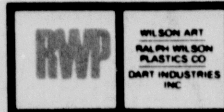

Bedtime, and you can't understand why you're always bored; no zest for life, never anything challenging to look forward to.

Is this an over-simplified version of life without the Private Enterprise System? Too dramatic? Too pessimistic?

Perhaps, but before you answer, think about it a little while. Is the competitive system, free-choice, your right to decide for yourself what quality of life you wish for your family, how you will live, what you will buy and what you will pay - is freedom itself important to you?

Ask anyone who has lived under another system.

This is # 8 in a series of messages on "the free enterprise system" to be brought to you by Ralph Wilson Plastics Company, manufacturers of Wilson Art brand laminated plastic and other products of quality and value for the building industry.

Yoemen Out Of District Race

The Cameron Yoemen were host to the Pflugerville Panthers Tuesday in second round district action, dropping that game to the Panthers 2-1.

After a cold first inning for both teams, the Panthers took advantage of the second, scoring their only two runs for the day. Panther center fielder Greg Brown reached base on a short stop error, followed by pitcher Wes Queen who reached the first bag on an infield base hit. Brown then crossed the plate on a sacrifice fly for the first Panther run, and Dale Moore stepped to the plate for the Panthers tapping an infield base hit that scored Queen.

It was the bottom of the sixth inning before the Yoemen got anything going, scoring their only run of the afternoon. Joe Reyes reached base on a fielders choice, Mike Barr then stepped to the plate, dribbling the ball to the Panther third baseman who in turn bobbled the ball allowing Barr to reach base, and giving Reyes the time needed to cross the plate, and wrap up the scoring for both sides.

Pitchers Hietman and Queen both tallied four strikeouts for the afternoon. Hietman took the loss for the Yoemen. The Yoemen are now 3-5 in district action.

Coach Roy Knight said "We just couldn't get the base hit when we needed it, we had 11 pop flies for outs, and just couldn't keep the ball on the ground." Knight cited Mike Barr as a Yoemen standout, stating that Barr performed well both offensively and defensively. Barr was credited with the only Yoemen RBI for the afternoon.

In other baseball action the Cameron Yoemen dropped their second round district opener to the Hearne Eagles in Hearne Friday 3-2.

The Eagles opened the scoring in the first inning scoring two runs, to lead 2-0.

The Yoemen fought back with two runs in the second inning. With two outs, Gerry Hietman singled, Terry Lowe stepped to the plate and on his third strike the Eagle catcher missed the ball, sending Lowe to first and moving Hietman to the second bag. Joe Reyes then stepped to the plate and tapped a high pop fly, which the Eagle pitcher bobbled, and Hietman scored from second. Steven Hollas tallied an RBI for the day as his hit scored Lowe to give the Yoemen two.

The Eagles managed to put one more run across the plate in the third inning to wrap up the game.

The Yoemen had eight out field flies for the day but could never get a tying run across the plate.

Terry Lowe took the loss for the Yoemen, pitching four innings, with Hietman coming on in relief in the final innings.

Hietman led the Yoemen hitting for the day, tapping a single and a double.

Yoe Golfers Take Second ; Prepare For Regional

The Yoe High School golf team recently competed in the district 23AA Golf Tournament, placing second under the Rockdale Tigers who took the district title.

The second place sends the Yoemen into the Regional tournament today and tomorrow in Brenham.

First place medalist, with the lowest score was Richard Leggett of Rockdale. Gerry Hietman of the Yoemen golf team was the second place medalist in the tourney.

The Yoe High golf team includes: Gary Hietman, Richard Raymond, Lynn Roberts, Richard Trubee and David Cummings.

Hietman and Roberts had excellent rounds in the tournament, playing two 18 hole rounds and turning in a 162 and 164 respectively.

singles champion, and Glaser-Mitchan went to the finals of junior division doubles. Luecke stretched the junior singles titlist to three sets in the semis. YHS has one of the few freshman tennis teams, in effect, in Texas schoolboy tennis.

Failure To Obtain License May Net Large Fine

A good indication that spring has come to Texas is the number of cases Parks and Wildlife Department game wardens make for failure to have a fishing license.

By the end of March, P&WD wardens had filed 2,192 arrests on anglers who lacked the $4.25 license. Fines for such offenses usually average $25, depending on local justices of the peace.

Revenue from the sale of fishing licenses also continues to decline.

License sales officials at the Parks and Wildlife Department say a total of 386,044 fishing licenses had been sold for the period September 1976 through March 1977, a drop of 76,962 for the same period a year ago. The decline represents a loss of some $308,000 to the P&WD.

CYCLE TIPS

Motorcycle Accessories Make Safety Sense

Knowing what to wear, and how to wear it, provides protection for you while riding your motorcycle. Here are some tips from Kawasaki on proper riding gear:

- 1) Always wear an approved safety helmet whenever you ride. Helmets are designed to protect you. Reaching for your helmet should be as automatic as reaching for the ignition key.
- 2) Protect your eyes. Always wear a face shield or goggles to protect your eyes from wind, dirt, dust and bugs. Sunglasses, loose fitting and often made of glass, are not suitable for riding.
- 3) Use gloves. Leather gloves provide the best hand protection. They also improve your grip and help prevent hands from getting tired, sore or cold.
- 4) Wear proper shoes. Over-the-ankle boots provide the best protection. Never ride barefoot or in sandals.

5) Dress for the occasion. Long-sleeves, pants and wind breakers provide warmth and protection. At night, choose white or bright colors to help other drivers see you. At all times, avoid loose or floppy clothes that could become entangled in the motorcycle machinery.

Unlike automobile drivers, motorcyclists are exposed directly to the elements, weather, dirt and road debris. A wide variety of stylish riding apparel is available at most motorcycle shops. Select the proper attire and your reward will be a safer, more enjoyable ride.

Out of Orbit

Summer danger is not limited to the direct effects of heat alone. As the individual's body temperature builds, and fatigue sets in, coordination and discretion are affected. The person becomes more negligent... and this invites other types of injuries.
Doctors of chiropractic, who treat many types of summer-related injuries, recommend the following rules:
(1) Drink plenty of fluids in the summer.
(2) Try to get plenty of ventilation in indoor work or play areas.
(3) Take more frequent rest breaks than you do during the winter.
(4) Shade your head from the strong sun with a cap if working out of the shade for long periods of time.
(5) Avoid heavy meals before and after strenuous exercise.
(6) If a heat injury occurs, seek immediate emergency treatment.
(7) Maintain your health year-round. Your reaction to heat is influenced by the functions of several systems of your body. To assist in gaining balanced function, doctors of chiropractic strive to remove structural impairments which may interfere with the body's adaptive powers. This procedure reduces tension and aids your natural restoration, maintenance, and resistance capabilities.

Health View

COOL IT DURING THE SUMMER

Summer can be an unnecessarily dangerous time of the year. In our enthusiasm to participate in summer activities, we can go beyond our physical limitations causing the body to become overly stressed. This can result in heat stroke, heat cramps, or heat exhaustion.
These reactions usually occur when large amounts of water, salts, or both, are lost through profuse sweating following strenuous exercise or manual labor in an extremely hot atmosphere.
Elderly persons, small children, chronic invalids, overweight people, and alcoholics are especially sensitive to circulatory reactions, particularly if they live in a normally moderate climate.
Although everyone regards less of age or sex is a potential victim, males are considered generally more susceptible because of their physical make-up.
About 75% of energy produced by muscle activity in the body is in the form of heat. Heat is dissipated by vasodilation of surface vessels, perspiration, and panting. Females can usually endure more external heat than males because their subcutaneous tissue acts as an insulator which aids in optimal thermal maintenance. But at the same time, it hampers loss of heat. Therefore, although the male is more likely to succumb to problems induced by insufficient heat loss, both sexes must watch out for heat-induced afflictions. Preventive measures include getting plenty of water and micronutrients.
The person who exerts himself heavily during the summer such as the athlete, sports enthusiast, or manual laborer should supplement excessive fluid loss. Drinks low in refined sugar are best. The sweeter the drink, the longer it remains in the stomach, and thus the longer it takes to replace the fluid lost from the body. Alcoholic beverages are contraindicated.
Health authorities often recommend electrolytic drinks because they replace vital minerals lost in perspiration and metabolism. There are numerous electrolytic drinks which are commercially available.
Although older people often succumb to heat, the prime victims are children. The basis is the same as that which causes this group to be the prime victims of all sports injuries: unrestrained enthusiasm to participate and the zeal for peer acceptance keep the child from quitting until exhaustion is severe.
Summer danger is not limited to the direct effects of heat alone. As the individual's body temperature builds, and fatigue sets in, coordination and discretion are affected. The person becomes more negligent... and this invites other types of injuries.
Doctors of chiropractic, who treat many types of summer-related injuries, recommend the following rules:
(1) Drink plenty of fluids in the summer.
(2) Try to get plenty of ventilation in indoor work or play areas.
(3) Take more frequent rest breaks than you do during the winter.
(4) Shade your head from the strong sun with a cap if working out of the shade for long periods of time.
(5) Avoid heavy meals before and after strenuous exercise.
(6) If a heat injury occurs, seek immediate emergency treatment.
(7) Maintain your health year-round. Your reaction to heat is influenced by the functions of several systems of your body. To assist in gaining balanced function, doctors of chiropractic strive to remove structural impairments which may interfere with the body's adaptive powers. This procedure reduces tension and aids your natural restoration, maintenance, and resistance capabilities.

Rabies Still Presents Threat

Kittens are supposed to be fluffy, playful creatures who love to test their claws and teeth on anyone who plays with them.

But when the playful kitten displays real antagonism and becomes ill, there's the possibility of rabies, reports the Bureau of Veterinary Public Health of the Texas Department of Health Resources.

That's what happened during 1975 to a kitten which earlier had survived an attack by a skunk on a farm. It was brought to Austin and given away as a pet. The kitten died soon after being put under surveillance by a veterinarian. The Department of Health Resources Laboratory in Austin confirmed that the kitten was a victim of rabies.

As a result, 14 persons who handled and suffered the normal biting and scratching of the kitten underwent a series of rabies shots.

This story had a happy ending for all those involved.

In fact, there were no rabies cases among humans in Texas during all of 1976 although the Department of Health Resources supplied 920 series of antirabies treatments to residents here.

The last documented case of human death attributed to natural exposure to the rabies virus in Texas was in 1962.

During 1972 one human death was attributed to exposure to the rabies virus in a laboratory. Rabies, despite the low number of human cases, still is one of the most terrifying diseases which can affect man.

It is still found in wild animals and is a constant threat to unvaccinated domestic animals and pets, especially in rural settings.

Rabies was confined in 345 animals in Texas last year, an increase from the 329 cases confirmed by laboratory tests in 1975, reports the Department of Health Resources. Of the total number, 16 were found positive in laboratories at Fort Sam Houston and Brooks Air Force Base.

The number of dog rabies cases increased slightly in 1976, from 25 the previous year to just 28 - 17 in Laredo in December. But in the cat population, rabies dropped from 20 cases in 1975 to 12 in 1976 - proof that rabies vaccinations are in order for cats too. Total dog and cat cases decreased to 40 last year from 45 the previous year.

As expected year after year, wild animals accounted for the most confirmed cases - 288 during 1976 representing an increase of 25 cases over 1975.

Biggest offender was the skunk with 204 cases. Bats accounted for 70 cases, foxes for 8 cases, raccoons for 5 cases, and one coyote.

GROWING BUSINESS--Texas Department of Agriculture inspectors have their hands full keeping up with the booming plant business. Plants are inspected to insure consumers are getting insect-free foliage for their homes and gardens.

Your Favorite Houseplant Part Of a Fast Growing Ag. Industry

AUSTIN--If you haven't been talking to your geranium very much lately, maybe you should tell her she's part of one of the fastest growing agricultural industries in the state.

Potted flowers, foliage plants, flowering and vegetable bedding plants became increasingly important in 1976, adding $19,107,000 to the state's coffers, making Texas the ninth ranked producing state in the nation, according to the Texas Department of Agriculture.

"I guess you could say the nursery industry in Texas is 'growing like a weed,'" commented Reagan V. Brown, Texas Agriculture Commissioner.

"This industry has grown from a $3½ million crop in 1973," he said, "and with Texas producers expected to add over 800,000 square feet of growing area this year, we can expect to see even more dramatic economic increases ahead."

While most of the increased area is in

Utility Tax Revenues Near Double

Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday that sharp increases in Texas utility rates have nearly doubled state utility tax revenues since 1972.

Bullock said that state gross receipts taxes on electric, gas and water utilities and telephone companies brought in $80.2 million in fiscal 1976, compared to $42.7 million in fiscal 1972.

He noted that the upward trend continues, as the same gross receipts taxes have yielded $53 million during the first six months of fiscal 1977.

The utility tax analysis is contained in the Comptroller's April monthly financial statement, which also includes an expanded report on the impact to Texas of federal regulation of natural gas prices.

Bullock said that state expenditures during February totaled $519 million, bringing total expenditures during the first six months of fiscal 1977 to $3.36 billion, a one percent increase over the previous year.

Spending by the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation continued to decline, he said. Highway construction and maintenance expenditures for the first half of the current fiscal year were $298.1 million, down $102.3 million from fiscal 1976 levels.

IRS Offers Booklet

Employees who are not covered by a pension or retirement plan where they work can get a free booklet from the Internal Revenue Service outlining how to set up an Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRA), the IRS said.

IRS Publication 590, "Tax Information on Individual Retirement Savings Programs," explains in simple language how qualified individuals can set up their own retirement plan and get a tax break at the same time. And this year, for the first time, non-working spouses such as housewives can establish their own IRA providing the working spouse has an IRA. The booklet also covers certain restrictions and limitations.

The tax treatment and restrictions of Individual Retirement Arrangements are among the items discussed in IRS Publication 590, available from most local IRS offices.
